

Major Publications

Beyond Relief: Food Security in Protracted Crisis

Luca Alinovi, Günter Hemrich, and Luca Russo (editors)

Synopsis:

"Achieving food security in protracted crisis situations - which are often accompanied by violent conflict and may last for decades - is a major challenge. This book draws together concrete examples from Somalia, Sudan and Democratic Republic of Congo to look at what worked - and what didn't."

- Reuters, AlertNet Press Release, 19 Sep 2008

Notes:

The book was also presented at seminars at the UK's Overseas Development Institute and the Egmont Institute. Future seminars are planned at WFP, The Carter Center (USA), and Tulane University.

Deriving Food Security Information from National Household Budget Surveys

Ricardo Sibrian (editor)

Synopsis:

The book aims at giving readers a better understanding of food security indicators and their use in food policy analysis. It includes studies from eleven countries which examine methodological issues related to estimating food deprivation.
